Baptist W. M. U. in Session.

The annual meeting of the W. M. U. of the Chester Baptist Association convened this morning in the Baptist church at 10 o'clock. After devotional exercises, Mrs. J. G. Johnston delivered the address of welcome to a pleasing and happy manner, which responded to by Mrs. Gregory. Following this came the enrollment of delegates, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and unannounced business.

The reports of the W. M. U. of the Y. W. U. the Sunday-school, the Hospital Ambassadors were made and listened to with marked attention.

The report of the superintendent, Mrs. S. R. Babcock, followed and showed the great work which had been done under her able and wise management. One of the features of the morning was the laudatory, "Why our society did not disband," by Mrs. J. W. Wix. An open discussion of the different boards, home, state and foreign, was participated in and aroused considerable interest. The committee on resolution reported Woodward as the next place of meeting and nominated the following officers: President, Mrs. L. T. Nichols; secretary, Mrs. Hall Ferguson; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Murr.

At one o'clock an elegant dinner was served on the grounds.

At two thirty o'clock, the association reconvened and heard the report of several committees. Mrs. W. H. Newbold reported on the work of the Y. W. U. An interesting paper was read by Miss Maggie Edwards. Mrs. W. W. Isaacs had an important lecture, "How a missionary was found."

The report of the committee on nomination and the election of officers as outlined above, was made and adopted. The exercises closed with the doxology and a chain prayer.

"What did you expect to prove by that exceedingly long winded argument of yours?" asked the friend.

"I didn't expect to prove anything," answered the orator. "All I hoped to do was to confuse the other fellow."

"I didn't expect to prove that I didn't prove anything," said the friend.

"This expression of yours, Miss De Murr," said the teacher of the class to rhetoric, who had been examining her essay, "is exceedingly faulty. You say, 'I made the very air sick.' How can you think of the atmosphere being sick?"

"It seems to me," replied Miss De Murr, "I have read somewhere of an ill wind." —Chicago Tribune.

It Encouraged Him.

"Kindness to friends," said an official of New York's department of charity, "does harm. A magistrate was telling me about a case he had the other day—a drunk and disorderly."

"Last time you were here," said the magistrate severely, "I let you off with a reprimand."

"Yes, yer honor," said the prisoner. "I guess that's why I'm here ag'in."

Very Dear.

A New York clergyman, discussing the extravagance of a New York society's coming out party, said: "Such girls don't make very economical wives. It must have been a girl brought up in that kind of charade."

heard two young naval officers talking about. "What a dear little craft your little yacht is! Dear," said the other. "Rather! I call her my treasure cutter!"

Words Failed.

"You've met Mrs. Chatters, haven't you?" said the friend.

"Yes," said Dan.

"You see all about her."

"Do you know any stronger words than 'salubrious' or 'loquacious' that mean the same thing?"

"Well, then, I can't describe her to you." —Chicago Tribune.

A Baptist church in Atlanta I having a hot time over a lady member of the choir who will insist on singing in a morning picture show, and she will not let the church, be permitted to sing in the church. Now if none of the church members are to be found in the seats at morning picture shows we would consider that either the churches in Atlanta are better than they are elsewhere, or the morning picture shows were a more fitting place for them.
